Kazuma's party

Kazuma Satō

Kazuma Satō (佐藤 和真, Satō Kazuma)

Voiced by: Ryōta Ōsaka (drama CD),^[1] Jun Fukushima^[2] (Japanese); Arnie Pantoja (English)^[3]

Kazuma is a 17-year-old game-obsessed shut-in, becoming one after having his heart broken by his childhood friend in middle school.^{LN 5.2.2} While returning home from buying a video game, he attempts to save a classmate from being hit by a slow-moving tractor he mistakes for a speeding truck, and dies from acute stress reaction. As a result, he is sent to a parallel reality and becomes a role-playing game character.^{LN 1.P} He has average stats in crucial categories, but above average intelligence and extremely high luck, neither of which are important for adventurers.^{LN 1.1.1} Regardless, he becomes one and learns basic skills such as stealing panties, archery, monster detection, and magic. Because he never chooses a class, Kazuma is referred to as an "Adventurer" and is able to learn foundational abilities and spells that would otherwise be exclusive to a single class, and learns to overcome the limitations of his classless status by combining skills and spells in unexpected ways. Kazuma lusts on almost all the females he sees, except Aqua, who even when he acknowledges them as attractive can't seem to get excited by her, even when trying. He is initially seen as just perverted and hopeless by his female partners, but as time passes he proves to be reliable and useful when the situation calls for it, that along with other good traits he has leads to Megumin and Darkness eventually falling in love with him. Kazuma finds Darkness extremely attractive but her personality turns him off, and while seeing Megumin only as a child at the start of the series, as time passes he starts to find her attractive as well, eventually falling in love with her and accepting her confession, entering a state of "more than friends, less than lovers". Kazuma rejects Darkness when she confesses to him, but that hasn't stopped her from keep trying to seduce him, even stealing his first kiss and forcing herself unto him to win over his affection. Eventually, Megumin and Kazuma shared a passionate french kiss while trying to have intercourse, before the battle against the Devil King, but a running gag in the later volumes of the light novel is that every time they are about to get intimate they get interrupted. Megumin promised Kazuma to give him "something incredible", once they returned home after defeating the Devil King.

Aqua

Aqua (アクア, Akua)

Voiced by: Kaori Fukuhara (drama CD),^[1] Sora Amamiya^[2] (Japanese); Faye Mata (English)^[3]

Aqua is the goddess of water who judges humans to send to the RPG world up until Kazuma drags her along with him after she provokes him by mocking his death.^{LN 1.P} She is an energetic and inattentive girl who likes to receive reverence for her status, particularly from her Axis cult, and gets upset easily and cries often. As an archpriest and a goddess, she is powerful against demons and the undead and is able to resurrect recently deceased people as well as purify water supplies. However, despite her high stats in magic, her intelligence and luck are among the worst.^{LN 1.1.1} Additionally, rather than learning skills that would benefit her party, she spends most of her skill points learning party tricks.^{LN 1.1.7}

Megumin

Megumin (めぐみん)

Voiced by: Maaya Uchida (drama CD),^[1] Rie Takahashi^[2] (Japanese); Erica Mendez (English)^[3]

Megumin is a 14 year-old ^{LN 14.3.3} archwizard who is part of the Crimson Demons race – modified humans who possess dark brown hair, crimson eyes, powerful magic affinity, and chunibyo characteristics.^{LN 5.5.5} with an eye patch for aesthetic reasons. Megumin only knows a single, incredibly powerful Explosion spell that immediately depletes her mana and incapacitates her after a single use, and refuses to learn any other skills. Due to the strength and resulting fallout of the spell, she struggles to find a party who would accept her prior to meeting Kazuma.^{LN 1.1.7} In the process, she eventually falls in love with Kazuma. She confesses her feelings to him, leading them to become a couple, but their secret is exposed when Darkness confesses her love to him as well. She was called an explosion maniac by Kazuma

Darkness

Darkness (ダクネス, Dakunesu)

Voiced by: Marina Inoue (drama CD),^[1] Ai Kayano^[2] (Japanese); Cristina Vee (English)^[3] Darkness is an 18-year-old crusader who possesses powerful offense and defense but lacks the accuracy to deliver her attacks.^{LN 1.2.4} She is a masochist who dreams of being ravaged by monsters or married to an abusive husband. She becomes serious when issues involve her friends. It is later revealed that her actual name is Lalatina Dustiness Ford (ダスティネス・フォード・ララティーナ, Dasutinesu Fōdo Raratīna), and is a noble from the influential Dustiness family who became a crusader against her father's wishes.^{LN 3.3.2} She, like Megumin, eventually falls in love with Kazuma, and she tries to seduce him, but Megumin stops her after she returns from her village. She was once referenced as a bouncy and busty beauty by Kazuma but despaired at her personalities' contents.

Devil King's generals

Devil King

The Devil King (魔王, Maō) is the main antagonist of the story, who aspires to destroy the humans. In a legend, he is described as being a talented, yet isolated, youth who defeated the previous Devil King and assumed his role.^{LN Ex. 2.E} He has eight generals to serve him, all of whom must be defeated before one would attack his castle.^{LN 2.3.2} In the final novel, it is said that his real name was Kyoichi Yasaka (八坂 恭一, Yasaka Kyoichi).

Voiced by: Masakazu Nishida^[2] (Japanese); Robbie Daymond (English)

Vanir was one of the Devil King's generals who ends up taking over the management of Wiz's magic shop.^{LN 4.1.1} He is the devil of foresight and one of the dukes of hell, with the ability to read everything about anybody, but he cannot read anything about people that are as powerful as he is (the Devil King's generals and other dukes), people stronger than him (Aqua and other gods), and people who are a little weaker than him; these people have their readings clouded and incomplete. An exception to this is Kazuma, whose cunning nature makes him hard to read. He also has very powerful combat skills that he refuses to use on humans.^{LN 3.4.4}

Planning to resign from his position as a boss,^{LN 3.E4} Vanir discovers a previously-cleared dungeon which he turns into his hideout, hoping to achieve his dream of tricking those who defeat him in battle into thinking there were riches inside a treasure chest, only to discover a piece of paper mocking them.^{LN 3.4.4} He is subsequently defeated by Megumin's Explosion spell and forms a second body to live in, moving to Axel and starts working at Wiz's shop.^{LN 3.E4} He holds a grudge against Aqua, who frequently attempts to purify him.^{LN 4.2.2}

The evil goddess of violence and sloth, Wolbach is worshiped by the Devil King's subordinates.^{LN 9.4.3} She uses her vast reserves of mana to cast Explosion magic on the Belzerg fort at the frontlines, then to teleport to safety. She was split into two entities, one of them humanoid, and the other is Chomusuke, Megumin's cat.^{LN 9.5.6} In the Explosions spin-off series, it is revealed Wolbach had saved a young Megumin from her other self by using Explosion magic, which inspired the Crimson Demon to learn the spell.^{LN Ex. 1.P}

Voiced by: Kōsuke Toriumi (drama CD),^[1] Takuya Eguchi^[9] (Japanese); Billy Kametz^[10] (English)

Kyoya is another human who was sent to this world by Aqua. Due to his stereotype behavior he has a misguided perception that he is the idealistic hero and thinks Aqua is a dignified goddess, which annoys Kazuma's party. Kyoya was given a cursed sword known as Gram as his chosen item upon entry, but simply loses it in a duel to Kazuma, who uses his Steal skill to swipe it.^{LN 1.3.8} Kazuma later pawns it off for extra money.
